Award Ceremony for the BIH Excellence Award Winners 2017

Berlin Institute of Health (BIH) announced the BIH Excellence Award for Sex and Gender Aspects in Health Research for the first time in 2017. The award aims to bring more visibility to sex and gender issues in translational research. It recognizes research excellence among renowned scientists working in the field of basic and/or clinical biomedical research with a focus on sex and gender aspects.

In early December, a jury of international experts selected two winners from the pool of internationally renowned applicants who stood out with their different research approaches. Berlin Institute of Health awards the 2017 BIH Excellence Award for Sex and Gender Aspects in Health Research to:

- Louise Pilote | McGill University and Research Institute of the McGill University Health Centre (RI-MUHC) in Montreal, Canada
- Rhonda Voskuhl | University of California, USA.

The award ceremony will take place on March 16, 2018 during the BIH Symposium 2018 in Berlin.
